Gravity Well

Description

Using this exciting apparatus known as a Gravity Well or Gravitational Well allows students to visualize the attraction of massive objects due to gravity.

The more massive the body, the deeper and more extensive the gravity well.

Our sun exerts a deep and vast gravity well relative to other bodies in our solar system which keeps the planets rotating around it.

Consisting of a flexible sheet and collapsible frame, the Gravity Well is supplied with all you need to bring the study of gravity to life.

Orbiting

Coalescence of stars

Formation of orbital systems

Variation of the orbital period with distance from a star
